

Power Hour Educational Webinars

Customized Live Online Training

When time is short and budgets are tight, providing your professionals with continuing education can be challenging. These 60-minute, live online educational sessions provide the learning they need in easy-to-access, bite-sized pieces.

We'll provide a survey to help you determine what topics are most important to your professionals. Once topics are determined, we'll customize each educational session for your professionals.

Whether your professionals conduct standing, seated or virtual communications, we have curriculum to take their skills to the next level. From entry level to seasoned professionals, we will customize content to help improve their communication and presentation skills for any situation.
